
nobody dreams about
holding open houses
OPEN
HOUSE

they dream about a backyard where everyone fits

nobody dreams about
touching up paint

they dream of saying yes
to the new job

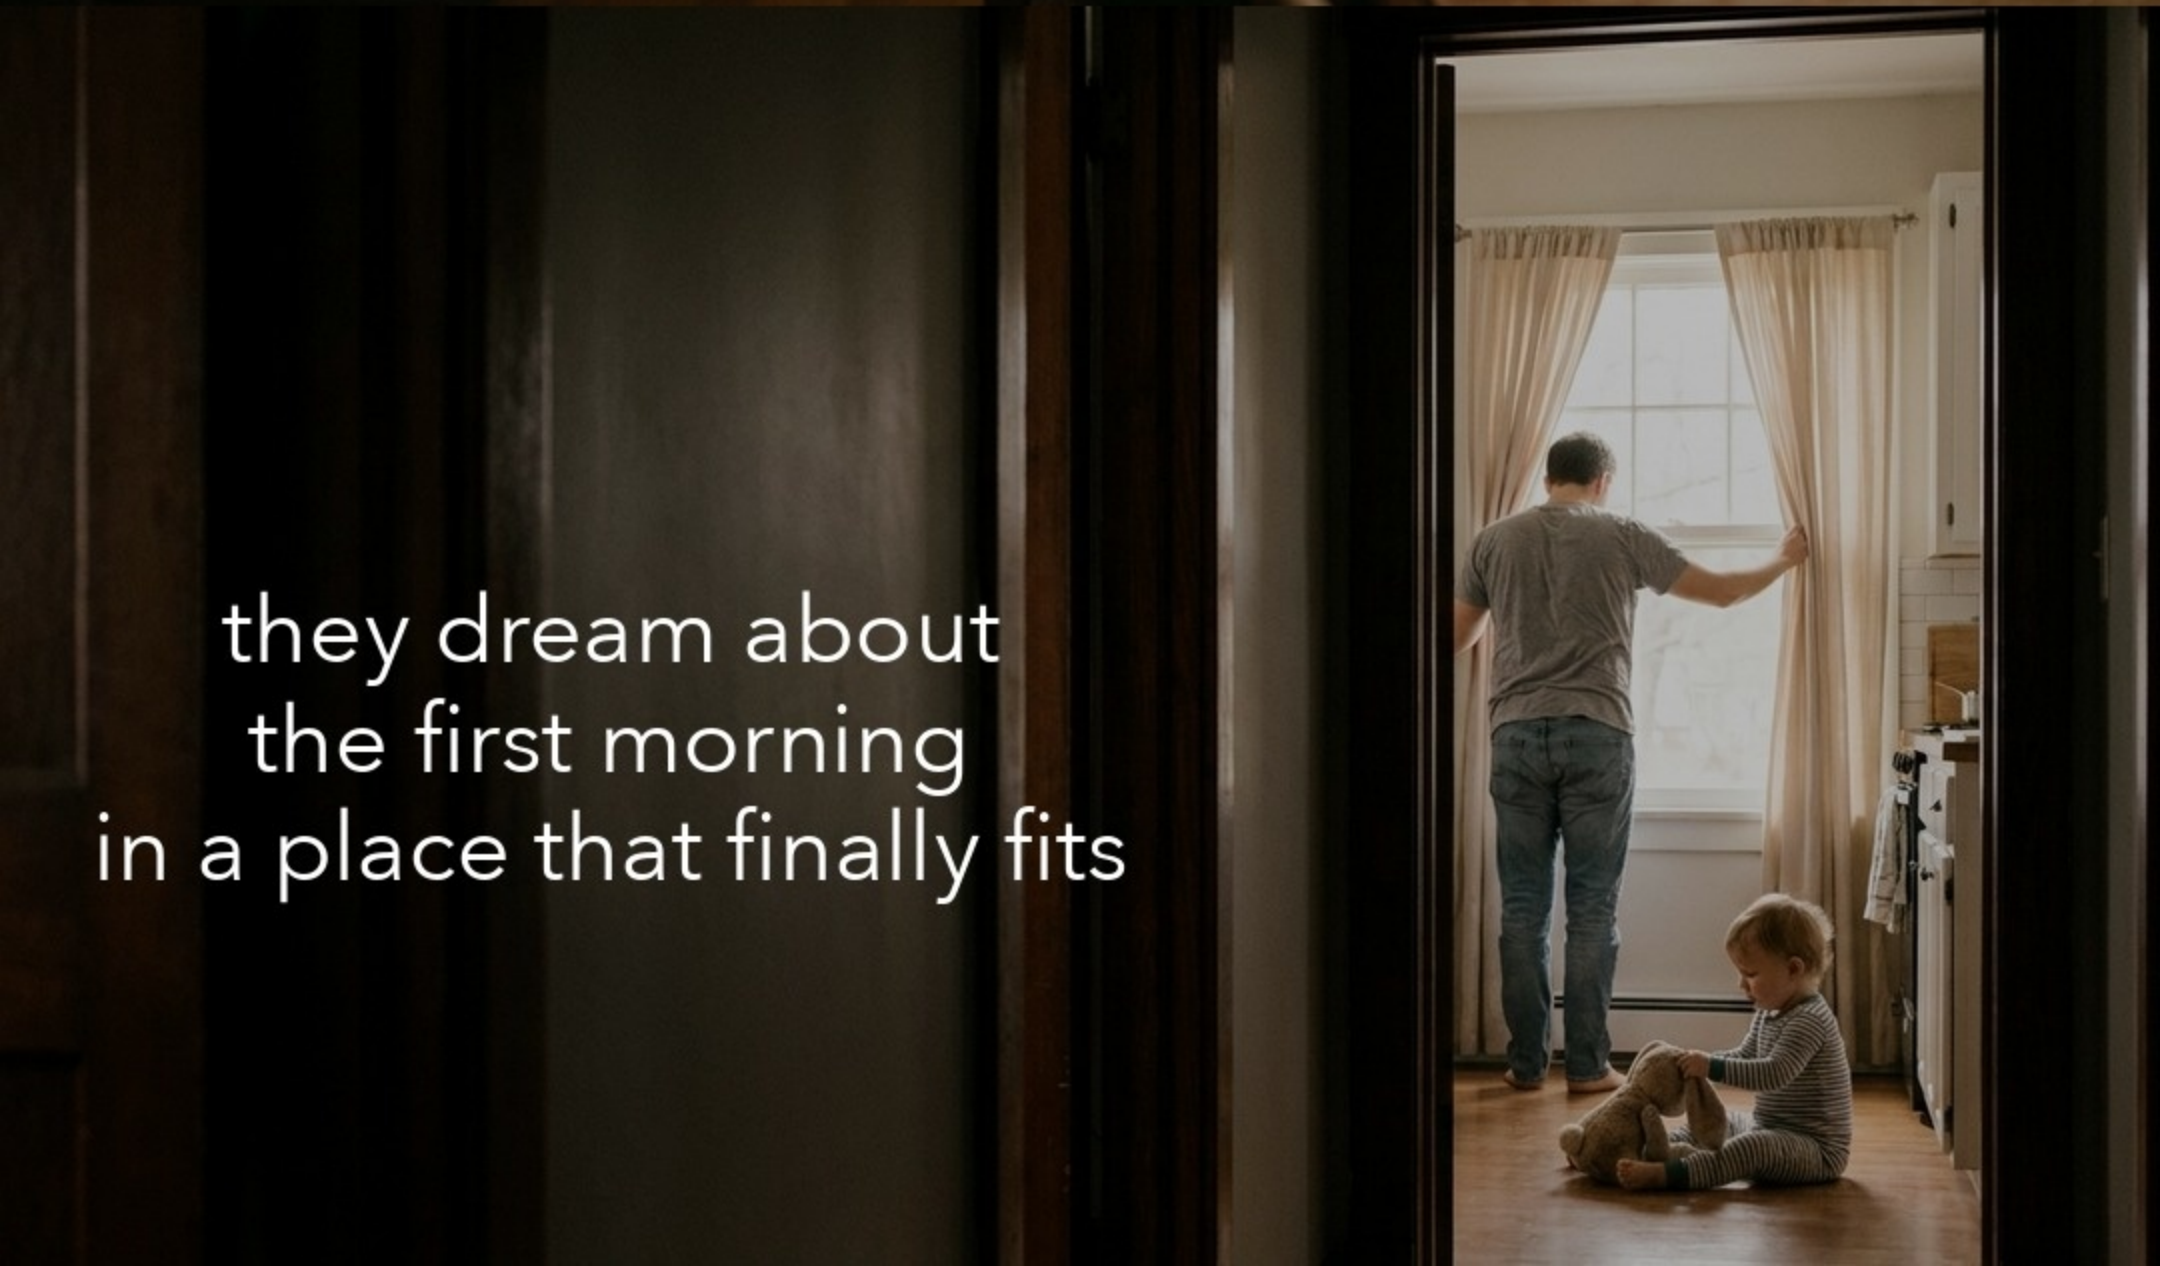

nobody dreams about
packing every box

they dream about Sunday dinner ten minutes from family

nobody dreams
about moving checklists

they dream about getting home before the sun goes down

nobody dreams about
the paperwork

they dream about
the first morning
in a place that finally fits
